Upcoming meeting: What is the future of North Temple?

SLC Redevelopment Agency's North Temple Project is going to significantly alter the character of the Fairpark Community's southern border. Running parallel to I-15 and stretching to Redwood Road bordered by 200/300 North and 100 South, the purpose of the project is to encourage transit-oriented development, increase density and housing options, and creating long term economic stability in the area. Transit Zoning allows buildings up to 5 stories.

RDA's David Arteaga, Project Manager, will be making a presentation at the upcoming Fairpark CC meeting on the project. He will also answer questions. For more information visit fairparkcommunity.org

Legislature Not Total Loss for Utah State Fair

When the REAL Salt Lake withdrew from the agreement to build a soccer stadium, many recognized that a unique opportunity to stabilize the future of the Utah State Fairpark had been lost. But, perhaps, the biggest disappointment during the Utah Legislature was the failure to vote to encourage the Governor to sign a long-term lease with Fair for use of Fairpark.

The Fair did, however, receive a $675,000 appropriation. Proposed legislation that would have required votes by Legislative committees before the Utah State Fair could sign a sublease with another group, something not required by current law – the bill, HB430, passed in the House of Representatives, however was not acted upon by the Senate.
