Proposed Prison Relocation Decision

The Prison Relocation Commission voted unanimously on August 11 that a new state prison be built near the Salt Lake International Airport, at about 7200 West north of I-80.

Salt Lake City Councilman James Rogers, District 1, joined Mayor Ralph Becker in a press conference just after the decision was announced, on the proposed site for the new prison. (source: Salt Lake City Council website)

“We are troubled to learn that the Prison Relocation Commission has chosen Salt Lake City as their recommended location for a new Utah State Prison. Despite the vocal and constant opposition from our community and information Salt Lake

City has provided that this site is unsuitable for this use, the Commission has recommended moving the prison to our City.

By moving the prison out by the Kennecott tailings in west Salt Lake City, the State will have ignored the opposition by our residents and elected leaders.

Salt Lake City will continue to fight today’s decision, and we look forward to working together with Salt Lake City’s legislators to pursue all options to prevent the prison being built. This State prison would be a new, additional burden, removing taxable property and potentially adding costs.”

Hot Times in the City

Every year, Fairpark Community residents look forward to summer vacations, camping, family reunions, picnics, and Labor Day. Summertime, however, also brings fires and injuries due to fireworks and outdoor cooking. We want to encourage summer fire safety in our community with helpful information obtained through the Salt Lake City Fire Department. Think about emergency preparedness.

Your ability to get out of your home in the event of a fire depends on advance warning from smoke alarms and advance planning. Pull together everyone in your household and make a plan. Walk through your home and inspect all possible exits and escape routes. Households with children should consider drawing a floor plan of your home, marking two ways out of each room, including windows and doors. Choose a safe meeting place outside the house. It is a good idea to keep a bell and flashlight in each bedroom

dirt & table

Things can be very busy for the gardener during August. What with keeping up with the zucchini and canning the tomatoes it is sometimes hard to find time to make a fall planting of fast maturing and cool weather crops. But you will be glad if you do.

Back to School Tips

It’s that exciting time of year – back to school. New clothes, new haircuts, new backpacks filled with school supplies, new teachers.....

Along with the excitement comes a degree of stress for both parents and children.

Kids.gov , a service from the Office of Citizen Services and Innovative Technologies, offering a variety of resources for students, parents and teachers, has an article with 10 tips for parents to help with the transition from summer to school year. Topics include communicating with teachers, health, easing into the school routine, time management and communicating with and listening to your kids.

Help the Fairpark Community become a Non-Profit Organization, recognized through the IRS with 501C3 status! On behalf our Fairpark residents, the Fairpark Community Council wants to grow and build our neighborhood using positive energy, targeted branding in an effort to build city wide recognition. By getting our 501C3 status, we will help to legitimize Fairpark as a community as involved as Liberty, as immaculate as Sugarhouse and as well branded as Rose Park. This is one step that will allow us to solicit funds as a non-profit, so we can hold events, participate in philanthropic efforts in our community and BUILD the Fairpark brand as a place where people want to move, and business want to set up shop. We have a law firm on hand willing to file the paperwork, we just need to get the filing fee. Donations for the filing fee will be tax deductible. Please support the Fairpark Community Council in this effort towards improving this beloved area of our beautiful city.
